

New energy battery does not provide warranty case

Can a battery be replaced if the warranty expires?

The problem arises when customers fail to realise that even when the battery is within the warranty period, should it have failed due to faults other than factory faults, the battery cannot be replaced.

Should you buy a warranty on a car battery?

For energy storage batteries, purchasing a warranty beyond 10 years does not make much sense, as a significant portion of the battery would likely need to be replaced after that period. Insurance can also be obtained. Operating and maintaining batteries is complex due to the reliance on software to optimize performance. The rates of deterioration of the battery depend on how the battery is used.

Will a warranty claim be honoured if a battery fails?

The warranty claim will be honoured based on proof that the battery failure was due to a factory fault. It is important to note that negligence in battery handling and care on the part of the customer will not be honoured.

What happens if a battery fails within the warranty period?

Whenever a customer purchases a battery, there will be a warranty claim that will be honoured should a battery fail within the warranty period. The warranty claim will be honoured based on proof that the battery failure was due to a factory fault.

How does a warranty claim work?

Once confirmations are made, a warranty claim is awarded to the customer. Another important point to note is that the newly provided 'warranty battery', in other words the new battery that has replaced the damaged or faulty battery, will only have the remaining warranty period from the date of purchase of the original battery.

Does LG Chem offer an energy throughput warranty?

LG Chem offers an energy throughput warranty, meaning it warrants that the battery will deliver a certain amount of energy over a 10-year life. The number of times a day the battery is cycled affects the battery's lifespan, making energy throughput a crucial factor.
